RACING BEGINS AT BAYSHORE NEXT THURSDAY

Spring Meeting To Be Featured By Action Of Finest Greyhounds In Country

The spring meeting of the Town and Country Kennel Club will get under way at Bayshore City next Thursday evening, February 10.

According to anonuncement by the owners, Thomas A. Keen and Peter P. O'Connor, many of the country's finest and fastest racing greyhounds will be ready when the first night's sport is inaugurated.

The mammoth plant, located in Visitacion Valley on the county line, 10 minutes from downtown San Francisco, will offer nightly events until March 19—a 33 day season.

Improvements on the racing strip make the Bayshore track the fastest in the country, and the champion dogs now assembled likely will shatter records.

R. C. (Cotton) Davis, popular and efficient racing secretary, who has held the same position since racing was introduced to northern California at the old Belmont plant, will again act in the match-making role, thus assuring formful events.

The list of kennels at Town and Country Kennel Club comprises the best, and includes these famed kennels: P. J. Olmo (who owns the noted Andrew's Pride and Mike Andrew), James B. Trout, Yellowstone, Sy Sampson, Bobbie Raffo, F. H. Wester, Jack Roche, Robert L. Wing, James Gibbons, Palo Alto, Paul Sutherland, Ted Bryant, Paul Vannucchi, James Giannocca, P. M. Curtiss, C & G. JUDGE COTTON SUSTAINED BY SUPREME COURT

Important Decision Involving Insurance Liability Upheld By High Tribunal

The Supreme Court of California, on Monday of this week, rendered a decision of far-reaching importance to all motorists of the state.

The court upheld a ruling by Superior Judge Aylett R. Cotton involving coverage included in the standard automobile public liability insurance policy.

Public liability policies contain a clause to the effect that "none of the insured automobiles will be used to carry passengers for a consideration, actual or implied," and a space to state for what the machine is to be used, such as "business and pleasure."

Some time ago a salesman of the Western Machinery Company carried a prospective purchaser to inspect some machinery. On the return trip the passenger was injured in an accident and judgment was rendered aaginst the insurance company for $1350.

Judge Cotton ruled that "no car is used strictly for pleasure purposes," and that most cars are used for convenience in business.

This decision was later reversed on appeal to the State Appellate Court.

In its unanimous decision the supreme Court holds that the automobile in question was being operated in proper business use and that the passenger was not being carried for a consideration, actual or implied.

AGED CHINESE WOMAN IS SAVED IN S. F. BAY FLOOD

Struggling through flooded tidelands at Alviso, Cal., on the southern tip of San Francisco Bay, a rescue party reached the home of Mrs. Ah Quim, 90 year old Chinese woman, found her high and dry in a chair which had been suspended from the rafters by her son. The woman is shown being transported to safety by a rescue party. The flood was the result of downpours which have blanketed all California for three days.

MANY ADDITIONS REPORTED TO POLITICAL UNITY

At the meeting of the Daly City Political Unity Club, Wednesday evening of last week, it was reported that many more citizens had joined and become members of the Daly City Branch of the California Committee for Political Unity.

A reading of the report compiled by the Daly City delegate to the Redwood City meeting, held Wednesday of the previous week, was read to the members present. The delegate's report stated that ten units of the Committee for Political Unity had been formed in San Mateo County, with the Daly City Branch as one of the strongest links in the state wide organization.

The next meeting of the local branch of the club will be held Wednesday evening, February 16, in the home of F. W. Kent, 252 Los Banos avenue.

RED CROSS ASKS AID FOR CHINA

Since President Roosevelt issued his call to the American public to rush a $1,000,000 relief fund through the American Red Cross, to millions of civilians in China who are in distress as the result of hostilities, Nelson T. Johnson, United States Ambassador, now at Hankow, reports that over 20,000,000 people are affected in the Shanghai, Hangchow and Nanking areas alone. He also says:

"The hostilities are driving huge numbers of Chinese from their homes, in cities and villages and on farms. Fleeing from danger, many of those people become refugees and are in need of shelter, food, clothing and medical aid. Transportation facilities as far inland as Szechwan are choked by this mass movement of terrified people. Unharvested crops have been left to rot; new crops will not be planted in the deserted fields this spring. The plight of this people will be piteous in the months to come."

Thousands of homeless are being forced to huddle under straw matting shelters, lacking protection from snow and rain. Alleys and doorways in scores of towns and villages are crowded with bewildered people, bordering on starvation.

President Roosevelt in his appeal to the public urges a prompt and generous response.

Given Jail Sentences For Recent Robbery

At Redwood City, Monday of this week, three youths convicted of assaulting and robbing a San Francisco bartender near Daly City, several weeks ago, were ordered to county jail by Superior Judge McNutt as condition of probation.

Thomas Hogan and Richard Parada were given three years' probation and nine months in jail; Robert J. Malaspina, three years probation and six months in jail.

Hogan was still on probation from a former kidnap-robbery conviction, when he became involved in the present trouble.

TO CELEBRATE PUBLIC SCHOOLS WEEK IN APRIL

Purposes For Observance Lauded By Leading Citizens Of Entire State

Public Schools Week this year will be observed during the week beginning Monday, April 25, according to a proclamation issued this week by James T. Fraser, grand master of Masons of California, and addressed to 130,000 members of the order in the state.

The celebration this year marks the nineteenth annual observance of the event, which was originally established to call public attention to and aid in correcting a critical condition in the public schools due to a shortage of teaching personnel because of war conditions.

"It is in our public schools," said Fraser, in his statement, "that the citizens of tomorrow are being trained today. Especially significant just at this time is the statement made by De Witt Clinton in 1826 in his message to the Legislature of the state of New York: 'I consider the system of our common schools as the palladium of our freedom; for no reasonable apprehension can be entertained of its subversion as long as the great body of the people are enlightened by education.

"It is to our public schools." Fraser continued, "and to the citizenship there being inculcated in the youth of the land that we must look for the perpetuity of our democracy and the preservation of its safety, peace and prosperity."

The observance each year is conducted in cooperation with the Parent Teacher Associations, the American Legion, Chambers of Commerce and other service and civic groups.

Last year it was estimated nearly a million citizens visited services held in the auditorium of public schools during the week.

ASK DRIVERS HEED ADVICE

We wonder how many people noticed and gave thoughtful consideration to the advice of the State Department of Motor Vehicles that was printed on the envelope containing their 1938 license plates: "Be Courteous—Careful—Cautious, to avoid Crashes."

To this we might add other warnings in phrases that are easily remembered: "To Take a Chance May Take a Life;" "Take Better Care of Your Car and It Will Take Better Care of You;" "Drive Carefully—Walk Safely;" "Accidents Do Not Happen—They Are Caused." Memorize all of these, quote them often, and put them into action.—San Mateo County Traffic Safety Commission.

Return Sets At Rest Resignation Rumors

The return of Superior Judge A. R. Cotton to active duty, Tuesday of this week, set at rest all rumors that he would reisgn on account of ill health.

Appearing rested and in the best of spirits, the judge heard arguments in several estate matters.

He gave no indication of the date when he proposes to call in the grand jury for instructions. The jury was impaneled by Judge Maxwell McNutt during Judge Cotton's absence due to illness.

U. S. Webb

After 34 years in office, U. S. Webb, attorney general of California, announced recently his retirement from public life, deciding he "would like to be on the outside of public office for a while, where he can do a little 'rumpus raising' without the restrictions of official position." Webb, in his 34 year record, is the oldest state's official in point of public service. He is 74.

BIRTHDAY BALL RECEIPTS SHOW LARGE PROFITS

Over Three Thousand Residents From All Sections Of County Enjoy Festivities

To the war chest for fighting infantile paralysis will be added nearly $1000 from San Mateo County as the result of the gala President's Birthday Ball, Saturday night, at Tanforan club house, General Chairman Joseph V. Gaffey estimated today.

A large representation from Daly City was among the more than 3000 persons attending the celebration, one of the most successful financially and socially ever held on the Peninsula.

United in a great humanitarian cause, city and county officials, civic leaders, the "man on the street" and their wives gathered to enjoy happy hours of dancing and elaborate entertainment at the big community party.

The ball was dedicated to the new national foundation for combating infantile paralysis by Bradford B. Melvin, prominent San Mateo attorney. Joe Cuneo was master of ceremonies.

Chairman and Mrs. Joseph V. Gaffey and Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Cleary of Burlingame led the grand march which climaxed when the dancers faced a large portrait of President Roosevelt and sang "Happy Birthday to You."

Stars of popular night clubs and other entertainers were featured in the floor show.

As the committee prepared to meet within the next few days for a financial report, high praise was given Chairman Gaffey and Treasurer Bloom of Burlingame for their part in the celebration. This is the fifth year that Bloom has had charge of financial arrangements, spending many weeks in accounting details, both before and after the affair.

Chairman Gaffey expressed his appreciation of the support and cooperation of residents and organizations of Daly City and throughout the county in making the celebration an outstanding success.

BAD CHECK NETS GIRLS IN QUEST OF EASY MONEY

Attractive Young Women Arrested In Oakland And Returned Here To Face Charges

Three attractive girls of Oakland—Bertha La Fournaisa, 19; Marion Hanson (alias June Clark), 22, and Carolyn Lee Sansome, 24, were arrested in an Oakland apartment house, Friday evening of last week about 5 p. m., on a bad check charge and brought to Daly City by Chief of Police James G. Reardon and Sergeant W. Sunderland, with Mrs. Reardon acting as police matron.

They were identified by Angelo Stampanoni Jr., proprietor of the Les Inn in Daly City, and Dominic Sambuceti, proprietor of the Colma Italian Cafe, who said they cashed checks for the girls. Stampanoni and Sambuceti cashed worthless checks amounting to $63, it is asserted.

A preliminary hearing for the three attractive girls was set by Judge Wade C. Clay for 2 p. m., Thursday of this week.

The girls were each released on $100 cash bail, after being arraigned in Judge Clay's court.

THE GOLD RUSH GOES ON

The wild cry of "Gold!" first surged up into California's skies ninety years ago almost to the day.

For it was on January 24, 1848, that John Marshall's eyes popped wide with excitement on discovering sparkling yellow grains in the tailrace of the water powered sawmill he had just built for Captain John A. Sutter.

The great avalanche of prospectors, home seekers, adventurers and shopkeepers which soon swept Westward is imperishably engraved in history's stirring chronicles and needs no re-telling.

California was a great producer in those days of the hardy Argonauts, and so she remains today.

According to the just published report of the United States Bureau of Mines, miners and free-lancing prospectors took out more than 40 million dollars worth of gold last year in California! In quantity, this was the largest amount since 1883, and in value, the richest sum since 1861. As in '49 and during the fifties, California is still the nation's leading gold producer. But she is no less a leading producer of orchard gold.

In that latter field, California's production ran to new highs in 1937 with the biggest combined fruit and vegetable pack in its history. The grand total amounted to more than 41,500,000 cases, a 12 per cent increase over 1936.

California's orchard gold, moreover, needs no great army of Forty-niners to enjoy its riches here. Twentieth century trade channels, centralized marketing throughout thousands of unified retail outlets, make certain that the gold rush still goes on, but with what a difference! Today's modern marketing methods bear the gold of field and orchard to every corner of the nation. Today's gold seekers can be stay at homes if they like.

And California, a great producer, can match their demand!

"A British-American reciprocal trade treaty is finally on the way, and the consequences may be of the highest importance to all the world. For the treaty is intended not only to foster trade, but to avert war. In any case, the United States can congratulate itself on having made a start toward enlarging its own trade and that of its two best customers, Great Britain and Canada."—Business Week.

ROCKAWAY BEACH PEDRO VALLEY

By C. H. T.

A wind-driven whiplash of rain descended in the coast last week, testing roofs supposedly water-tight, and chimneys that looked staunch against any gale. Little damage is reported in our two villages. The Marks home, perched on the cliff overlooking the sea, had its stovepipe toppled over on the roof, and the rain poured through the roofs of a dozen other houses and made dismal puddles on the floor. Following the letup in the storm, one could see residents dash out to have a look at their roofs, and set things right again, much as ladies straighten their hats after passing by a windy corner. Mrs. Sant reports the usually placid Pedro creek has risen and become a raging torrent rushing under its bridge and scooping out a deep channel through the beach sands and into the sea. The Maracci meadows are partially flooded, and following an immemorial custom the Grande avenue hill has been scored into something resembling a corduroy road, with the pattern running lengthwise. Some time there will be something done about it. On this rosy hope we endure, from one rain to the next.

Mrs. Grace Danmann's arm operation last week is said to have proved a success.

Mrs. Sant spent a day in San Francisco visiting her mother.

We note that several local houses have been left uncompleted, due, someone says, to the fact that their construction failed to pass the building inspector. Building a house on a hillside is something that requires considerable more care than erecting the same sized house on a level lot. We personally regret every home that stops short of completion, for we need residents in this locality now that the new highway has gone through.

* * *

A fireplace in the home sounds wonderful, but it's far and away behind even a small airtight stove for real comfort. We notice that a near neighbor has topped his fireplace chimney with a stout wooden box to keep the searching wind out of his living room, and gone over to another, more practical way to heat his home.

Slides on the new coast highway this week have knocked travelling schedules into the traditional "cocked hat," including those of the local bus. Better luck in future, both for the passengers and for the new bus driver, who has already won many friends by his courteous manner and kindly speech.

A neighbor reports a glimpse of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Cubbon recently, walking along a city street, both of them evidently still suffering from the results of the automobile accident of a few months ago, when a car crashed into the Cubbon car on the highway between Rockaway and Pedro. Both victims were patients in a city hospital, but appear to be on their way to recovery. Such disasters seem very much worse when they come to close neighbors and friends, and Pedro residents were greatly concerned over the occurrence.

Some news of the Rockaway public school has not yet come to hand at this writing, and therefore must wait over until next week. Sorry.

Cowboys Entitled To Square Deal

The labor organization movement has extended even into the open stretches of the eastern Oregon and Washington cattle country.

In the wake of the 1937 Pendleton Roundup came the announcement that ranch and range hands of the Pacific Northwest have organized a professional organization known as the Northwestern Cowboys Association. Organization of the group was perfected after the "Turtles," professional association of rodeo performers, had refused to compete in the Pendleton Roundup, annual frontier exhibition. Tony Vey, eastern Oregon cattleman, is president of the organization.

"This is a professional organization of ranch and range boys," Mr. Vey said, "and we hope to have members throughout all the Northwest states. Our purpose is square and fair dealing with rodeo managements."

About to be sentenced for attempted burglary in New York, this week, appeared before Judge Braucato one Alfred Fraley, known to alienists as a consistent faker of insanity.

The judge said: "Five to 10 years in Sing Sing."

SAME PROBLEMS EXIST NOW AS IN ANCIENT TIMES

Pageant Depicts Scenes Of Days In Egypt When Pyramids Were Built

The glittering panoply and magnificence of ancient Egypt together with the other extreme of slavery, cruelty and the vicissitudes of every day life of those citizens of mysterious antiquity form a never to be forgotten pageant on the stage of the Alcazar Theater this week. They are all a part of the play, "The Sun And I," by Barrie and Leona Stavis that opened to a capacity audience Wednesday night.

"The Sun And I" is, as reported, the biggest and most pretentious production ever attempted outside New York City by the Federal Theater and it has just claims as being one of the finest from every aspect. The scenic settings are superb, the costumes brilliantly beautiful, the tempo in perfect step with the theme and the acting more than adequate: the whole, an artistic triumph for the government theater.

"The Sun And I" draws an easily recognizable parallel between the problems of that mysterious age when the pyramids were built and those of practically every country in the world today. Good and bad government, famine and drought, water and food conservation, love, hate and intrigue are but a few of the ingredients that make for interest throughout this spectacular staging. Dictators, it seems, were not uncommon even in that far off day. "The Sun And I" pictures Joseph—of the coat of many colors—as a dictator who reckoned without the alignment of the priests of the temple, the soldiery and the people themselves, and who brought disaster on himself.

Will Vedder, Leon Forbes, Vera Rothery, Sylvia Karoll and Ralph Freud, who directed the play, are outstanding.

Jefferson High Basketballers Lose

Playing their best game of the season thus far, the Jefferson unlimiteds were defeated by the Palo Alto Varsity by a score of 28-19. Captain Charles Murray's fine defensive and floor play made him the outstanding player in the game. Murray led the Jefferson scores with a total of 7 points, while Tony Compagno and Glen Smith each rang up five. The Indian five showed considerable improvement in their game with the Norsemen, although ball passing proved to be one of their principal weaknesses.

Their offensive smothered, the Jefferson 130's lost the opener to the Palo Alto lightweights by a score of 30-11. During the first half of the game both teams took many shots at the baskets. At the half-time the score was only 11-7 in favor of Paly, but as the last half got under way the red and green squad jumped into a decisive lead. Bob Savelly led the lightweights with a score of 4. Carter Callan played fine defensive basketball throughout the game.

130's—Savelly (f) 4, Callan (f) 2, G. Doyle (c) 1, Millet gr.) 2, Barghini (gr.) 2; total 11.

Varsity—Flansburg (f) 2, Compagno (f) 5, Glen Smith (c) 5, Harvey Smith (gr.) 0, C. Murray (gr.) 7; total 19.

This Friday night at 7:30 the Jefferson Indians tangle with the San Jose Bulldogs, at San Jose. The Indians will be up against some real competition when they meet the San Jose quintet, who are the likely champs of the Peninsula Athletic League.

STRAW BALLOT

The writer attended the opening of the straw ballot in the Riley Hall, Wednesday evening of last week, which was conducted by the "Citizens Committee." Several unexpected events popped up. One was the fact that after only 300 ballots had been sent out, and many of these returned to the committee, a count and recount disclosed 304. Opinion was that out of the 300 mailed an average return of 150 was expected. Evidently some one with a misplaced sense of humor had some more duplicated and mailed them in. Amateur detectives found differences in the printing and now the air is full of threats of finger printing, hand writing experts, "de-tec-a-tiving" and what not.

Some seemed to be of the opinion that it might have been the opposing side, as all duplicated ballots were marked for the opposing candidates. But, on the other hand, the above mentioned candidates and constituents are highly indignant because their names were included on the ballot at all, when at the same time it had been stated by the Citizens Committee that consideration would not be given to them and that ballots had not been mailed to any voters on that side. Should a miracle happen and their names receive the greatest number of votes, the nxt two highest names would be taken as the candidates to be backed by the so-called Citizens Committee.

Proponents of the League say the motive to have Messrs Lawson's and Henmann's names on the ballot may have been to make it appear that they or their friends had stuffed the ballot box and thus to discredit them and the League.

However, in the opinion of the writer the reason was entirely obvious and had the League candidates or their supporters had to resort to such tactics they would not have done it in such a crude manner, but feel their intelligence is high enough to at least employ a little more finesse.

At any rate, the atmosphere is rife with suspicion with everyone wondering just who in heck could have double crossed who. Well, will just charge it up to those unusual situations which always seem to happen in Bayshore and nowhere else. Some of us are beginning to wonder if all this so called country air, peace and quiet, are worth it all, and if it wouldn't be a whole lot more convenient living in the middle of Market street or maybe a boiler factory.

"SUSPECT" IS TITLE OF SHOW AT THE CURRAN

The return of Pauline Frederick to the legitimate theater is an event of importance, for she has always been a great favorite and can be depended upon to give the fullest of pleasure in any portrait which she draws. Miss Frederick came to the Curran Theater, San Francisco, opening on Monday, January 31, in the London, England, success "Suspect."

Arthur J. Beckhard, who has established himself in the past five years as one of the most astute producers and directors, is presenting Miss Frederick in "Suspect." The play is a murder play, but not a mystery. Rather it is a psychological study of people involved in a murder case. For this reason, it is not proper to reveal the story of the play, but it can be relied upon that it will have one of the most unusual and effective twists that any play has had in years.

For the support of Miss Frederick, Mr. Beckhard has assembled a splendid cast, including Grayce Hampton, Morton Lawalter, Virginia Barnato, Raymond Lawrence, Russell Hicks and William Griffith. The entire action of the play takes place in a garden lounge in Polcurn, Cornwall, England, which gave an opportunity for a particularly fine setting. "Suspect" was written by Edward Percy and Reginald Denham, two well known English authors, and found great popularity on its original presentation in the West End, London.

The Lesson-Sermon will also include the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The flesh and Spirit can no more unite in action, than good can coincide with evil. . . . Newly elected officers for the Juniors are President, Eugene Doyle; vice president, Fern Crawford; secretary-treasurer, Joe Nicoletti.

Our Front Door

While waiting at the gas station the other day, we overheard an interesting conversation in a neighboring machine. "My what an awful entrance to a town," "Yes," was the answer, "I'd hate to live so close to a swamp like this. It must be unhealthy. Wonder why they don't do something about it? Must be all dead heads living there."

And it built in our mind, a picture of what might be. Just see, in your mind's eye, the following scene:

The Bayshore Highway buzzing with hundreds of autos passing daily. The stretch of water, known as San Francisco Bay, one one side, and on the other, the entrance to Brisbane. Instead of a swamp, let us imagine a beautiful park, well cared for trees and lovely shrubs. And a place for the Brisbane children to play. What a different front door Brisbane would have.

And folks, a great deal depends upon our front doors. If we have a torn shade or dirty curtains, or the door itself hanging on one hinge, our neighbors and people passing will think much less of us than they would if we kept our doors tidy and neat. So it is with the entrance to our city. And Brisbane is a mighty nice place to live, and well, with a beautiful front door. And the health of our family is a vital factor too. Think it over folks.

LIGHTER OIL

In cold weather lighter oil usually is necessary for maximum engine performance.

It is also advisable to drain the crankcase more frequently in winter because dilution occurs more rapidly due to hard starting and increased use of the choke.

Medieval Sport Is Revived At Catalina

Boar-baiting, ancient sport enjoyed by medieval knights, was recently revived on Santa Catalina Island, Cal., but modern equipment takes the place of antiquated weapons. In olden days a string of hounds was employed in conjunction with the huntsman's skill with the bow and arrow. Dr. Robert Kennedy of Hollywood dispensed with the dogs and long-bow, substituting an everyday rifle. Photo shows Kennedy with his prize, a young boar, with which he expects to grace his oven. Note how the wild variety of porcine animals have a growth of bristly hair and an unusually long snout.

Catholic Church Items

Last Sunday, before Mass, one section of the recently acquired Social Hall was dedicated as a temporary chapel. The entire building is to be remodeled, but gradually, so as not to become a financial burden on the congregation.

Mass is celebrated every Sunday at 9:30 a.m., followed by Sunday School. The Sisters of Charity conduct classes of catechism Tuesday afternoons at 3:30. Every Friday evening a benefit whist is held under the direction of Mrs. Blair.

PEOPLE say modern lighting that is "easy on the eyes" makes the eyes feel better . . . And they are right . . . Good lighting brings out the beauty of the home furnishings . . . It aids personal beauty, too.

Light that is glaring brightness or that is dim and gloomy makes hard work of seeing. It causes squints and frowns and scowls and brings on many premature wrinkles and face-lines.

Good, modern lighting merely means the right kind of light, and the right amount of light where you read or sew or use your eyes. And you can have it easily, quickly, inexpensively. A Home Lighting Recommendation chart made out for your home will fit lighting to serve the exact seeing-needs in your home. This is a free service and there is no obligation. Hundreds are taking advantage of this service. Why not you?
